

The Association for Culture and Education

ALTEEA

Romania

The Association for Culture and Education ALTEEA is a non-profit organization, reaching a regional dimension. Its official headquarter is in Craiova, but its activity is unfolded in the region Sud-Muntenia, respectively in the capital of Romania, Bucharest.

The members of the Association are teachers and trainers for adults' education, collaborating with different other specialists as doctors, engineers, psychologists, economists. The Association was actively involved in training activities, cultural and artistic activities, as well as in volunteering actions.

Through partnership agreements, the members of the Association unfolded activities of training and management in Learning Partnerships Grundtvig Projects as “Join us!” (2004-2007), “Education for the Health of People” (2006-2009), “Parents, School and Children- Learning by doing together” (2009-2011), “Guide Us Into Arts” (2011-2013).

By involving certain active groups of young people, students' parents, as well as elderly people, we concentrated our actions on education, self-development and cultural activities. The age of the participants in our activities ranges from 16 to 65.

Therefore, our organisation targeted mainly adults looking to acquire the necessary abilities to overcome the difficulties in the socio-professional integration generated by the actual situation among which globalization, the migration of the labour force, EU expansion and development of the mobility for European citizens are aspects of a complex context, which requires a continuous lifelong development.

Our Association develops educational programmes which aim to facilitate the quick integration of people in the active life, in different, flexible ways, as an alternative to the risk of social exclusion.

Through such initiatives and measures, ALTEEA organization contributes to the development of the local community by developing human resources.
